Recognizing the Top Reviewers for Circulation Research

Roberto Bolli

A journal can only be as good as its reviewers. The Editors of Circulation Research wish to acknowledge the following reviewers, who have distinguished themselves for exemplary performance and outstanding contributions to the journal. They have selflessly donated their time (often on weekends and evenings), their energy, and their expertise to assist the editors in the difficult task of selecting the most meritorious articles among the ≈2000 submission we receive annually. The wisdom and dedication of these individuals have helped Circulation Research to uphold its high standards.

Awards to these reviewers were distributed at the Editorial Board dinner in Orlando, Florida, on November 8, 2015.
