Abstracts Are Due June 7
For '68 Scientific Sessions

To provide more time for the presentation of additional papers on clinical and scientific advances in the cardiovascular field, the American Heart Association's 41st annual Scientific Sessions will be held over a period of four days, instead of three days as in the past. Also, to avoid conflict with the numerous other medical meetings scheduled in October, the sessions will be held from Thursday, November 21 through Sunday, November 24 in the Americana Hotel, Bal Harbour, Fla.

Abstracts of papers and applications for cardiovascular films and scientific exhibits to be considered for presentation at the sessions must be postmarked no later than June 7, 1968.

Papers intended for presentation must be based on original investigations in the cardiovascular or related fields. Abstracts should digest the project's results and the investigator's conclusions and must be submitted on official forms.

As in the past, a full day will be devoted to the showing of cardiovascular films concurrent with the Scientific Sessions. The Association's Subcommittee on Films will select recently produced prints to be presented.

Space for industrial exhibits may be requested through Steven K. Herlitz, Inc., 850 Third Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10022.

Official forms for submitting abstracts, films and scientific exhibits may be obtained from the Department of Medical Education at the Association's National Office.

3-Day Cardiology Course
To Discuss Advances

A "Three Days of Cardiology" postgraduate course on the subject of Cardiac Advances of Current Interest has been scheduled for February 19-21, 1968 in New York City.

The Course, co-sponsored by AHA's Council on Clinical Cardiology, the New York Heart Association, and the Page and William Black Post-Graduate School of Medicine of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, will be directed by Charles K. Friedberg, M.D. It will be held at Mount Sinai Hospital.

Registration fees for the course are $50 for Fellows and Members of the Council on Clinical Cardiology and $85 for non-members. Registration forms and additional program information may be obtained from the Director of Medical Education at the American Heart Association.

Subscription Renewals
Due for AHA Journals

Forms to renew subscriptions for Circulation Research and Circulation in 1968 have been sent to subscribers and should be returned promptly to avoid missing issues of the publications.

Subscription rates are $16 yearly for each journal (U. S. and Canada), or $17 elsewhere. Combined subscriptions to both publications may be obtained at $28 in the U. S. and Canada and $30 in other lands. Subscriptions are accepted only for the calendar year, January through December.

The journals are offered at a reduced rate of $5 each annually to medical students, interns, residents and research fellows in the U. S. A statement of occupation must accompany applications for this special rate.

Applications for the journals should be made through the Subscription Department, American Heart Association, 44 East 23rd Street, New York, N. Y. 10010.
New Members Elected To Editorial Board

Nine new five-year appointments by Julius H. Comroe, Jr., M.D., Editor, to the Editorial Board of Circulation Research, have been approved by AHA’s Publications Committee as follows:

Rippel Foundation Grant Aids Circulation Research

A grant of $95,000 has been voted by the Board of Trustees of the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation, Newark, N. J., to aid the American Heart Association in publishing Circulation Research.

The grant is payable in annual installments for five consecutive years for exclusive use in supporting publication of the monthly journal.

The grant to Circulation Research recognizes the importance of publishing results as an indispensable part of research.

European Congress Set for Greece in Sept.

Athens, Greece has been chosen as the site for holding the Fifth European Congress of Cardiology, from September 8-14, 1968, under sponsorship of the European Society of Cardiology.

Advance programs for the Congress and applications for submitting abstracts to be presented may be obtained from the Department of Councils and International Program of the American Heart Association. For additional information, contact Dr. A. Samaras, Secretary General, 24 Ravine Street, Athens 140, Greece.

1968 Catalog Lists AHA Publications

The 1968 edition of the catalog, “Scientific Journals and Books of the American Heart Association,” is off the press and may be obtained on request from the Association or its local affiliates and chapters by physicians, scientists and medical students.

In addition to listing all medical and scientific periodicals published by the Association, the catalog describes the latest publications in the Monograph and Cardiovascular Abstract Series and other professional booklets the Association issues.

AHA to Screen Abstracts For Asian-Pacific Congress

Abstracts of papers to be presented by U. S. physicians and scientists at the Fourth Asian-Pacific Congress of Cardiology on September 1-7, 1968, in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, Israel, must be submitted through the Department of Councils and International Program of the American Heart Association. The deadline for receipt of abstracts is February 8, 1968.

The Congress is being held under auspices of the Asian-Pacific Society of Cardiology. May 15, 1968 is the deadline for receipt of applications for Congress membership. Fees are $50 for membership and $35 for associate members.

A wide range of cardiovascular topics is scheduled for discussion at plenary sessions, symposia and round table conferences throughout the Congress. In addition, two afternoons will be devoted to showing scientific films and scientific exhibits will also be on display during the Congress.

Preliminary programs, application forms for submitting abstracts and registering for the Congress, may be obtained from AHA’s Department of Councils and International Program, 44 E. 23rd St., New York, N. Y. 10010. Travel arrangements may be made through Compass Travel Bureau, 55 W. 42nd St., New York, N. Y. 10006.
